Key Board Appointment

- Appointment of Andrew Shearer as Director
- Resignation of David Ransom as Director

The Board of Investigator Resources Limited (ASX: IVR – “Investigator”) is pleased to announce the appointment of Andrew Shearer as a Non-Executive Director, effective immediately.

Andrew holds a BSc (Hons) degree from Adelaide University and an MBA from the University of South Australia and has been involved in the mining and finance industries for more than 25 years.

Most recently, Andrew held the position of Senior Resource Analyst with PAC Partners Pty Ltd and previously with Phillip Capital, and Austock. Establishing his career in the industry, Andrew held technical and senior management roles with Mount Isa Mines Limited, Glengarry Resources Limited and the South Australian Government.

As an analyst, Andrew covered small to mid-cap resource stocks across a broad suite of commodities and brings a breadth of experience in equity research, investor relations, valuations, supply and demand analysis and capital markets.

Andrew is currently a Non-Executive Director for Andromeda Metals (ASX:ADN) and Resolution Minerals (ASX:RML).

“The appointment of Andrew, a well-respected contributor in the resource industry, to the Investigator Board provides the Company with an enhanced skillset to assist in advancing its objective of identifying and acquiring superior prospects in the current economic climate” said Investigator’s Chairman Kevin Wilson.

“With the Paris Silver Project as a significant asset, and a supportive shareholder base, Investigator are well positioned to take advantage of the current buoyant market conditions to deliver value” said Andrew.

Dr David Ransom, initially appointed as Chairman of Investigator in 2017 and Non-executive Director from late 2019, has tendered his resignation.

Kevin Wilson said: “On behalf of the Board, we thank Dave for his valuable support and guidance”.
